Policy Recommendation
Office of Citizen Complaints
Fourth Quarter 2002
Reference: OCC Case No. 0054-02
OCC Investigator David Aulet

Subject: Prompt and Appropriate Medical Treatment for Juvenile and Adult Detainees

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department:

1. Amend the Department's Booking and Detention Manual and Department General Order 1.05 (D) (Duties of the Station Keeper) to require the Department to provide prompt and appropriate medical treatment to detainees (both adult and juvenile) to the same degree that the Department is required to provide prompt and appropriate medical treatment to arrestees.

2. Augment Policy Academy and roll call training to conform to this change in policy.

Background:

When a juvenile complainant was taken into police custody, he suffered a 1.5 cm laceration to his lip that required suturing. Evidence of significant bleeding from this laceration was apparent at the scene, during transport and at the station. Although paramedics at the station evaluated the juvenile as requiring non-emergency transport to the hospital for further treatment, officers released the juvenile to his parent at the station without informing the parent of the paramedics' recommendation and assessment and without determining whether the juvenile could obtain transportation to the hospital.

Station keepers are responsible for the custody of prisoners at the district station. It requires that station keepers ensure that injured or ill prisoners are medically cleared before booking. Only a physician or Jail Medical Services personnel at County Jail #1 can provide medical clearance for injured or ill prisoners. The Booking and Detention Manual further provides that seriously ill or injured prisoners must be transported by ambulance to a medical facility. Officers must transport prisoners with minor injuries or illness to a medical facility. (See San Francisco Police Department Booking and Detention Manual, DM-12 (March 2000) pp. 9-11.).

The Booking and Detention Manual outlines the Station Keeper's responsibilities to "prisoners"—individuals who are presumably arrested, booked and subsequently transported to the County Jail. The Booking and Detention Manual is silent as to the Station Keeper's responsibilities toward "detainees"—individuals who are arrested and/or detained, brought to the district station but then released from the district station without further incarceration. The Department is both criminally and civilly liable for a detainee within its custody no matter how short the duration. Thus, the Booking and Detention Manual and Department General Order 1.05 (D) which outlines the duties of the Station

Keeper should clearly outline the responsibilities that the Station Keeper and thus, the Department has towards its detainees—both juvenile and adult.

Subject: Written Policy Concerning Timely Disclosure of Information in Police Matters of Public Concern

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department implement a written policy concerning the timely disclosure of information in police matters of public concern (e.g. officer-involved shootings, death-custody cases, arrests of police officers) to family members, the public and the press that includes the identity of officers involved in an incident, the release of the incident report, the status of the case, and other relevant information.

Background:

The OCC has received complaints from the public and from family members whose children and siblings have been injured or killed by SFPD actions that the Department has not provided them information about the incident itself, the identity of the officers involved, the status of the case and other relevant information.

For example, in the Martin Luther King Jr. day felony stop of four juveniles, families of the juveniles complained that the Department would not release the incident report to them and that they could not obtain information from the Department as to the identity of the officers who detained and pat-searched their children. In an officer-involved shooting case, the victim's family did not receive the incident report for several months after the death and then when they finally received it, it was significantly redacted In the case of three off-duty SFPD officer arrests, two complainants stated that the Department's failure to release the incident report and explain the investigative steps it was taking in the matter undermined the public's confidence in the Department.

The Department has no written policy concerning the timely disclosure of information to the press, the public and family members affected by lethal and/or injurious actions taken by SFPD officers. The non-disclosure or delayed disclosure of basic information (including identity of officers involved in an incident and release of the incident report) fosters community suspicion and hostility toward the Department and permits rumor and speculation to circulate instead of information and facts.

Subject: Review and Amend DGO 7.01 to Explicitly Outline Officers' Responsibilities To Juveniles

Recommendation:

The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the Department:

1. Review and rewrite the policy and procedures regarding juveniles (Department General Order 7.01) to ensure compliance with state and federal law and to explicitly state the responsibilities and documenting requirements of officers.

2. Invite appropriate personnel from the San Francisco Juvenile Probation Department, Youth Guidance Center, Legal Services for Children, Child Protective Services, Department of Justice and other expert institutions to provide a best practices review of police department's policies and procedures regarding juveniles and to participate in the evaluation and rewriting of the Department's policy and procedures regarding juveniles.

3. Augment roll call and Police Academy training to conform to these policy changes.

Background:

The OCC has received numerous complaints concerning the treatment of juveniles and the failure of officers to follow proper juvenile procedures. Additionally, General Order 7.01 is silent in a number of significant areas affecting children and juveniles. The following examples highlight aspects of Department General Order 7.01 that need to be revised but are not intended to be the only areas of suggested revision.

1. DGO 7.01 states that officers should not bring juveniles to facilities containing a lockup for adults, including district stations but officers routinely bring juveniles to district stations. This practice should be re-evaluated in light of the DGO and each district station facility should be evaluated as to its ability to comply with California Code of Regulations (see below).

2. DGO 7.01 does not address the Department's responsibilities to children or minors who do not fall under Welfare and Institutions Code section 300 (Victim of Neglect), 601 (Runaway or Beyond Parental Control) or 602 (Violation of Criminal Law). In one complaint, a 14-year old girl was brought to the district station despite her parent's objection and then subjected to a derogatory comment by an officer at the station. Her status was neither as a section 300, 601 or 602 minor and the DGO provided no guidance as to alternate places she could have been placed before a parent, legal guardian or responsible adult could have picked her up.

3. DGO 7.01 (E) (2) (b)[1] which governs the procedures at district stations for the secure detention of juveniles who have committed §602 offenses and pose a serious security risk does not fully comply with California Code of Regulations, Title 15, Article 14.

   DGO 7.01 does not state what factors should be taken into account in deciding to hold a minor in secure detention. Nor does it state what actions officers should take after the 30-minute maximum handcuffing time has expired. It does not require a watch commander to approve the securing of a minor to a stationary object for longer than 30 minutes and every 30 minutes thereafter. Nor does it require documentation of the reasons for the continued secure detention of the juvenile.[2] Additionally, it does not address any other option for securing a juvenile who poses a serious security risk. This section needs to be rewritten to conform to California Code of Regulations, Title 15, Article 14.

[1] General Order 7.01 (b) provides: SECURE DETENTION. Juveniles age 14 and over who are serious security risks or pose a risk of harm to themselves or others, may be held in secure detention. The following policies shall apply:

(1) The juvenile must be informed of the purpose, expected detention time and of the the six hour maximum.

(2) The juvenile may be cuffed to a stationary object for a maximum of 30 minutes.

(3) There must be adequate supervision to assure restricted contact with adult prisoners.

(4) Entry must be made in a log, indicating the offense, reasons and circumstances for the secure detention, starting and ending times of detention, and the officer's name.

[2] While General Order 7.01 (b) (4) requires entry in a log indicating "the offense, reasons and circumstances for the secure detention, starting and ending times of detention, and the officer's name," it does not include the reason for the continued secure detention and the authorization of a watch commander as mandated under §1548, California Code of Regulations.

For example, California Code of Regulations, Title 15, Article 14, Section 1548 outlines the mandatory procedures and documentation requirements when a juvenile is handcuffed to a stationary object. It specifically imposes certain requirements if a juvenile is secured to a stationary object for longer than 30 minutes—requirements that 7.01 does not address or impose.

Section 1548 states:

> Minors held in secure detention outside of a locked enclosure shall not be secured to a stationary object for more than thirty (30) minutes unless no other locked enclosure is available. A staff person from the facility shall be present at all times to assure the minor's safety while secured to a stationary object. Securing minors to a stationary object for longer than 30 minutes, and every 30 minutes thereafter, shall be approved by the watch commander and the reasons for continued secure detention shall be documented. Minors who are secured to a stationary object shall be moved to a locked enclosure at such time as it becomes available.

Department Bulletin 01-38 addressed officers' responsibilities to monitor juveniles at the district stations and to fill out secure and non-secure juvenile detention logs at the stations. (Attached to the Department Bulletin are the Secure Detention of Juveniles Log and Non-Secure Detention of Juveniles Log.) It stated that officers had to obtain the officer-in-charge's approval before placing a juvenile in secure detention and for detentions that exceeded thirty minutes. It did not inform officers that they needed approval for every thirty minutes thereafter, nor did it require documentation of the reasons for the continued secure detention. Contrary to §1548 which instructs that minors secured to a stationary object shall be moved to a locked enclosure at such time as it becomes available, Department Bulletin 01-38 stated that "Department policy prohibits placing juveniles in locked rooms or cells.[3]" This department bulletin expired on February 14, 2003.

Both the Department Bulletin and the Juvenile Log forms are unclear as to which officer is responsible for the continuous monitoring of the juvenile and the thorough completion of the Juvenile Log forms.

Complaints involving secured detention issues include a 17-year-old juvenile arrestee who was placed in a room at the district station and handcuffed to a stationary object for 70 minutes until he was transported to the Youth Guidance Center. The Secured Detention Log indicates that an officer observed the juvenile

[3] This prohibition is correct as to certain types of juveniles. Juveniles cannot be held in a locked room and/or handcuffed to any fixed object if 1) the juvenile is brought to a district station for a Welfare and Institution Code §§300 or 601 offense (e.g. truancy, child neglect) or 2) the juvenile is under age 14 (regardless of the offense) or 3) the juvenile is age 14 or over and is not a serious security risk or does not pose a risk of harm to him or herself or others. (See General Order 7.01 (E)(1) & (2)).

at two thirty-minute intervals. In a second case, complainant, a 14-year-old juvenile arrestee was placed in a room at the district station and handcuffed to a stationary object for 44 minutes until he was released to his parent. The Secured Detention of Juveniles Log indicates than an officer observed the juvenile twenty minutes after he was placed in the room and twenty-four minutes after the first observation. He was intermittently released from the handcuffs while receiving medical treatment from paramedics called to the station.

In a third case, complainant, a 15-year-old juvenile arrestee was placed in a room at the district station. handcuffed to a stationary object for 45 minutes, released from the handcuff to make a phone call and then handcuffed again to a stationary object.

In a fourth case, a female juvenile and a female adult were handcuffed together on a bench in the district station. This station lacks proper and sufficient holding facilities for both females and juveniles and must be corrected.

In a fifth case, a juvenile was handcuffed to a bench for about an hour.

4. General Order 7.01 does not address the rights of juveniles and the responsibilities of officers when juveniles are detained but not brought to the district station. The General Order is silent as to any notification to the parents or legal guardian, does not address the manner in which a juvenile may be released from police detention and does not include any documentation requirement.

   Complaints involving detentions of juveniles include a case in which officers were responding to a car vandalism report involving 18 and 19 year old black females. Officers detained a 13 and 15-year-old black female juveniles who were carrying groceries in close proximity to a market. They were pat searched by male officers, placed in the patrol car and transported several blocks for a cold show in which they were exonerated. Instead of driving the two juveniles to their home, an officer released them several houses away from where they resided. Officers never notified the juveniles' parents during the detention or after they were released; no incident report documenting the detention and cold show was written.

   In a second case, officers detained a juvenile on suspicion of inhaling an intoxicant. They knew he was a known gang member and he was wearing gang colors at the time of the detention. Stating they were transporting him to the police station, they stopped and released him in rival gang territory where he was immediately stabbed.

5. General Order 7.01, section II (2) states that when taken into custody juveniles should be read the Miranda advisement as required by Welfare and Institutions Code §625. However, the general order does not state whose responsibility it is to provide the advisement, when it should be given nor does it include any documentation requirement.

Because the Secure and Non-Secure Detention of Juvenile Log Forms already document police contact with each juvenile brought to the district stations, this form provides a logical place to record when and who provided each juvenile the Miranda advisement.

Complainant, a juvenile, was taken into temporary custody at a district station. The complainant alleged that he was not read his Miranda rights. In their OCC interviews, eight officers who had contact with the complainant, including the arresting officer, stated that they did not inform the complainant of his Miranda rights. All of these officers stated that they did not know whose responsibility it was to Mirandize the juvenile.

6. Although DGO 7.01 requires the arresting officer to notify a juvenile's parent, guardian or responsible relative if a juvenile is taken to the district station or other law enforcement facility, it does not state when such notification must be provided. Officers are required to include in their incident reports whether notifications were made or whether other actions were taken to notify parents or guardians. It does not require that identifying information about the parents or guardians be documented in the incident report or elsewhere.

   In two cases, juveniles were released to either a relative or a friend's parent without sufficient information in the incident report to identify who that individual was and how to contact that individual. Because the Department is responsible for releasing to a parent, guardian or responsible adult, such information is vital.

OCC Investigator David Aulet

Subject: Amending the Critical Incident Criteria to Include Incidents Involving Significant Bystander Response and Police Action

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department:

1. Amend Department General Order 8.01 (Critical Incident Evaluation and Notification) to include incidents that involve significant bystander and/or community response and police action but may not rise to the level of "a riot, insurrection or potentially violent demonstration" as currently required under 8.01.

2. Amend Department General Order 8.01 to include designating specific officers the responsibility of answering questions posed by bystanders, providing information concerning the necessity and lawfulness of the police action and assisting in de-escalating hostility between bystanders and the police.

3. Augment Policy Academy and roll call training to conform to this change in policy.

Background:

Four juveniles who were sitting in a car listening to music in the early morning hours of Martin Luther King Jr. Day were detained at gunpoint, removed from their car and pat-searched. Officers were responding to a call that two African-American males with hoods over their faces were removing guns from a car. Parents (complainants) and other concerned neighbors came out to the scene and protested the treatment of the juveniles, some of whom were female and subjected to pat-searches by male officers. They also requested information about the legality of the police action. Complainants and witnesses stated that an officer was expressly asked for an explanation of the police action, did not furnish one, but instead replied with a racially derogatory comment. A juvenile complainant and adult were forcibly arrested, resulting in visible injuries to the juvenile complainant.

Department General Order 8.01 establishes policies and procedures for evaluation by and notification of command personnel in critical incidents. This order mandates that the District Captain (or an alternative designee) immediately respond to the scene of a critical incident, assume command, evaluate the situation and make appropriate notifications. Examples of critical incidents include a hostage/barricaded suspect, a citizen shot by an officer, a riot, insurrection or potentially violent demonstration, and an officer arrested on or off duty.

While the instant case did not rise to the level of a "riot, insurrection or potentially violent demonstration," the nature of the police action and the community response were such that the expertise and presence of command staff normally drawn upon during a critical incident would have significantly enhanced the communication between law enforcement and members of the community. Additionally, by designating this case and similar situations as a critical incident, the Department would further its community policing goals by allocating the resources, strategic planning, advanced officer training and state-of-the-art policing generally dedicated to critical incidents. The OCC further recommends that an essential aspect of a critical incident response include designating specific officers to answer questions posed by bystanders, provide information concerning about the police action, and assist in de-escalating hostility between community members and the police.

Subject: Providing Translators

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department create a General Order and roll call training that requires officers to obtain a translator/interpreter to provide adequate language translation in situations where

(1) A civilian requests a translator; or
(2) An officer is unable to provide services due to a language barrier

This General Order shall provide officers flexibility in obtaining translation assistance by calling upon bilingual officers, AT& T's 911 foreign translation service and other individuals present at a scene who may offer assistance. The General Order shall also provide clear guidelines as to when civilian assistance would be inappropriate because of the civilian's status (e.g. The General Order would prohibit requesting a suspect to translate for a victim or a young family member to translate for a parent in domestic violence case.)

Background:

Currently officers encountering a language barrier may contact the Communications Unit, Operations Center or ATT's 911 foreign language translation service to request a translator. Sometimes bilingual officers are available to provide translation; at times officers obtain assistance from other civilians at the scene who can translate.

In 1999 the OCC made a policy recommendation that the Department provide a translator when either a civilian requested one or the officer was unable to provide services due to a language barrier. Two cases had given rise to this policy recommendation. In one case, the complainant reported to the district station that he had been assaulted. His request for a Spanish language translator was denied because the responding officer believed the complainant-victim spoke sufficient rudimentary English. In a second case, an auto theft victim was unable to receive an administrative fee waiver due to the lack of intervention by a translator. The officer stated during the OCC investigation that he did not request a translator through the local phone company because the forty-minute response time in the past was too long a delay given his other responsibilities.

Throughout 2000 and 2001 The Department and the OCC meet several times to discuss this policy recommendation but ultimately, the Department never took action on the policy recommendation.

The OCC has received numerous subsequent complaints that continue to demonstrate the need for new policy in this area. Responding to a domestic violence call, the officers refused the complainant's request that her daughter act as a translator. No interpreter was called to the scene and the complainant was interviewed in English. The complainant believed that the lack of an interpreter resulted in the officers' acceptance of her husband's version of events and led to her being arrested as a primary aggressor. In a previous domestic violence call involving the same husband, SFPD officers interviewed the complainant in Cantonese and the case resulted in her husband being arrested and ultimately placed on domestic violence probation.

In a second case, an officer responded to a landlord-tenant dispute. The officer wrongly concluded through hand gestures and a limited English conversation with the landlord that she had been the victim of a verbal rather than physical assault. The officer returned several hours because of another 911 call at the address, this time summoning an interpreter for the landlord. Through the interpreter, the officer learned that the landlord had been physically assaulted by the tenant during the first call.

In a third case, during a traffic stop involving questions about his registration, the complainant asked in limited English whether he could speak with an officer who spoke Spanish. The officer denied there was a language barrier and refused to call for translation assistance for the complainant.

In a fourth case, an officer arrested the complainant for public intoxication even though witnesses at the scene told the officer he had not been drinking and the PAS result was .00%. At the station, the complainant's request to speak with a Spanish-speaking officer was denied.

In a fifth case, the complainant's passenger asked the officer if he could summon a Spanish-speaking officer because the complainant did not believe she could provide a complete statement and answer questions regarding a traffic collision in English. The officer denied her request, which the complainant believed resulted in an incomplete investigation.

In a sixth case, during a dispute between the complainant and a restaurant owner in which police intervened, the complainant asked that a Chinese-speaking officer be summoned to translate for her. The officer denied her request.

Subject: Protocol and Written Guidelines to Maintain Incident Report Attachments

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department develop a protocol and written guidelines that ensure that required documents such as strip search authorizations, citizen arrest forms, certificates of release, emergency protective orders, and cold show admonitions are properly scanned, filed and maintained by the Records Management Section to the same degree that incident reports are.

Background:
Police officers are often required to fill out a variety of forms that contain vital information about actions they have taken during the course of investigation. For example, if an officer detains an individual and releases him or her after investigation, an officer is required to fill out a certificate of release form (Penal Code sec.849(b)) which is provided to the individual and maintained by the Records Management Section of the Department. This document informs the individual of the date and time of the police encounter and states that the police encounter was for detention purposes only and did not amount to an arrest. Sometimes this document is the only evidence of the police encounter.

During the course of numerous OCC investigations, SFPD members have stated that they complied with department mandates by filling out required forms and attaching them to the incident report but that when OCC investigators or the SFPD members themselves attempt to obtain such records, they cannot be located. For example, in one case where the legality of a strip search was at issue, the officer stated she had obtain authorization from a superior and filled out the strip search authorization form that she claimed she attached to the incident report. However, the form was not attached to the incident report and could never be located. In another case where the existence of an emergency protective order (EPO) was at issue, the officer stated that he had attached it to the incident report. Efforts to obtain the EPO through the Records Management Section were unsuccessful. The officer was able to locate a copy of the EPO in his own records and that copy exonerated the officer.

Such documents are often vital to demonstrate compliance with federal and state laws and department general orders. These documents often provide important information to the civilian regarding the type of action the Department has taken in the civilian's case. Thus, to ensure proper and complete record keeping, these documents should be scanned, filed and maintained to the same degree that incident reports are.

Subject: Policy and Training Recommendations Concerning SFPD Interactions with Transgender Individuals

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department:

1. Implement as soon as possible the fifteen (15) recommendations developed by the SFPD/Transgender Community Task Force. Because of continuing OCC complaints concerning interactions between transgender individuals and SFPD, it is especially imperative that roll call training and Task Force-suggested Department Bulletins be issued immediately.

2. Establish a record keeping system for each roll call training that indicates the time, date, member attendance, topic and materials used for the training. (E.g. informational hand-outs or a video presentation shall be preserved from each roll call training.) Such records shall be accessible to the OCC in the course of investigation. The OCC shall be included in the distribution list that announces upcoming roll call trainings. (Also see Fourth Quarter 2002 OCC Policy Recommendation concerning Roll Call Training and Reissuance of Department Bulletin Concerning Service Animals and Written Protocol on Issuance and Reissuance of Department Bulletins.)

Background:

Complainant, a self-identified transgender woman, was booked as a male. Complainant felt that the officer's language and attitude toward her were disrespectful of her gender identity. Based on this complaint, the OCC presented to the San Francisco Police Commission policy and training recommendations. On August 1, 2001, the San Francisco Police Commission unanimously adopted Resolution #55-01 which recommended that the Department 1) augment training for both new recruits and experienced officers to provide guidance as to culturally competent language and behavior in the questioning and other treatment of persons who identify, or who are identified by officers, as transgender individuals; 2) invite appropriate personnel from the City's Human Rights Commission, Community United Against Violence (CUAV) and other expert institutions to participate in training SFPD sworn personnel, pursuant to the above; and 3) standardize documentation as to transgender individuals in incident reports and other SFPD forms, to include, among other items, complete documentation for persons who use various (e.g. male and female) aliases.

In response to Resolution #55-01, the SFPD/TG Community Task Force (hereinafter Task Force) convened in January 2002 and met throughout the next year and a half to develop protocols and training materials. In April 2003, the Task Force proposed to the Department a 15-point plan that includes roll call trainings, "A" Priority Department Bulletins, increased recruit and advanced officer training, and revisions to particular General Orders. The Department is currently reviewing these proposals.

In addition to the original complaint that gave rise to Police Commission Resolution 55-01, the OCC received two subsequent complaints involving transgender individuals. In one case, an officer who had responded to a dog complaint continued to address the complainant as "Sir" despite repeated corrections on her part that she was not a "sir" and should be addressed as "ma'am." In another case involving a traffic stop, although the driver presented a valid driver's license that indicated she was female, the officer repeatedly questioned her gender, including asking her about what surgeries she had undergone.

While attempting to verify officers' attendance at roll call training on other topics, the OCC has found that the Department does not have a uniform policy to document the time, date, member attendance and materials used during roll call trainings. Such documentation is necessary to enforce compliance and evaluate roll call training effectiveness.

Subject: Providing Preliminary Alcohol Screening Test to Individuals Arrested and Booked for Public Intoxication and the Filing of Public Intoxication Reports

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department

1. Implement a procedure for filing and maintaining public intoxication reports to ensure that they are preserved and accessible to the public to the same degree that incident reports are.

2. Provide a Preliminary Alcohol Screening Test to individuals arrested and booked for public intoxication (Penal Code section 647(f)).

Background:

The complainant was involved in a non-injury traffic accident. Despite a Preliminary Alcohol Screening (PAS) test of .00%, no smell of alcohol on complainant's breath, and witnesses who stated he had not been drinking, the complainant was arrested and booked for public intoxication (Penal Code sec.647(f)) where he was held for four hours at the district station.

Department bulletins addressing public intoxication arrests mandate officers to prepare a public intoxication report in every case. In the instant case the arresting officer stated that he prepared a public intoxication report but he could not produce it for the OCC investigation. The station keeper who received the booking could not produce the report, although he maintained he would have required the report as a prerequisite to booking in this case because the complainant was booked only on the public intoxication charge. In another case the complainant was arrested and held for four hours for public intoxication even though he claimed he had not been drinking. His requests for a breath and blood tests were denied. When he requested a copy of the public intoxication report from the District Station, he was told he needed to obtain it from the Reports Management Section where he was informed no report existed. Eventually and after much effort and persistence he received a copy of the report through the Police Legal Division.

Because public intoxication reports constitute the sole contemporaneous documentation of the justification for a civilian's prolonged custodial detention, they should be filed with the Reports Management Section and maintained as scrupulously as incident reports. Additionally, public intoxication reports should be made available to the detainee to the same extent that other incident reports are available to arrestees, detainees and suspects.

Under San Francisco Police Department's current policy, a 647(f) arrestee cannot obtain a blood, breath or urine test to determine the presence or absence of alcohol or drugs unless the arrestee can arrange for and pay the costs of the test. According to SFPD's Booking and Detention Manual, DM-12 (March 2002), "[t]he test will be administered at the arrested person's expense and conducted under the supervision of the Station Keeper." District station are not equipped with breathalyzers; the costs associated with hiring a medical staff person to come to the district station to obtain a blood or urine test will be prohibitive to most detainees. On the other hand, most officers have Preliminary Alcohol Screening devices that can at least provide some measure of alcohol consumption with little extra cost to the Department. Because a 647(f) arrest involves a substantial custodial detention of an individual, the Department should be required to collect evidence that supports this liberty infringement. The Department should be required to use Preliminary Alcohol Screening tests or another testing device that incurs a minimal cost to the Department but enables an arrestee to determine the presence or absence of alcohol.

Subject: Roll Call Training and Reissuance of Department Bulletin Concerning Service Animals and Written Protocol on Issuance and Reissuance of Department Bulletins

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department:

1. Develop a written protocol that requires the Department to review all Department Bulletins sixty (60) days before their expiration to determine whether they should be reissued. The written protocol would require the Department to consult with the OCC before deciding whether or not to reissue Department Bulletins and shall seek the input of the OCC when reissuing a Department Bulletin or issuing new Department Bulletins. The written protocol would require Department Bulletins to be reissued before their expiration date.

2. Reissue (and update if appropriate) SFPD Department Bulletin A 00-43 Use of Service Animals By Persons With Disabilities that expired on 3/23/02.

3. Reissue (and up-date if appropriate) roll call training on Guide dogs and Service Animals.

4. Establish a record keeping system for each roll call training that indicates the time, date, member attendance, topic and materials used for the training. (E.g. informational hand-outs or a video presentation shall be preserved from each roll call training.) Such records shall be accessible to the OCC in the course of investigation. The OCC shall be included in the distribution list that announces upcoming roll call trainings. (Also see Fourth Quarter 2002 OCC Policy Recommendation concerning Policy and Training Recommendations Concerning SFPD Interactions with Transgender Individuals)

Background:

While responding to a loose dog complaint at a residential motel, an officer continued to question the complainant about her ownership of a service animal despite the complainant and the hotel manager confirming the dog's service animal status. Although the complainant offered to provide documentation attesting to the dog's service status, the officer continued to press the complainant to reveal the nature of her disability, stating that she did not "look disabled." When the complainant revealed her disability (which qualifies as a disability under federal and state law), the officer claimed it was not a disability but a disease.

In another case, officers responded to complainant's call that he was being refused service at a restaurant because of his service dog. The officers asked the complainant for proof that his dog was a service animal or medical proof that he needed a service animal, documentation that service animal owners are not required to carry by law. When he asserted that his disability was confidential, the officers stated they could not help him and that it was a civil matter between himself and the restaurant owner. While attempting to obtain records of roll call trainings the officers received concerning guide dogs and service animals, the OCC discovered that the Department does not have a uniform system for documenting member attendance, time, date, topic and materials used for the roll call training. Such documentation is necessary to enforce compliance and evaluate roll call training effectiveness.

Additionally, the Department does not have any protocol written or otherwise for reviewing and reissuing Department Bulletins before their expiration. In the latter aforementioned case, Department Bulletin A 00-43 entitled "Use of Service Animals By Persons With Disabilities" had expired on March 23, 2002. This Department Bulletin contains vital information about responding to and documenting service animal calls and its reissuance before its expiration date would provide continuity of Department standards and practices. (Department Bulletins are issued by the Chief of Police and distributed Department-wide. Department Bulletins may provide directives, general information, training information, special orders, event orders or deployments, and may supplement or amend Department General Orders. Department Bulletins and their provisions expire two (2) years after their date of issuance. (See generally Department General Order 3.01 II.))

Subject: Logging system for external requests of SFPD incident reports and written guidelines for immediate window release of particular incident reports

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department establish a method to document the receipt and processing of all external requests for incident reports. Additionally, the Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department develop guidelines and criteria for the immediate release of selected Incident Reports at the Report Management Section (RMS) window and provide information to the public (through posted signs, the Department's website, telephone recordings) as to what reports can be immediately released and how to request such reports.

Although the Report Management Section of the San Francisco Police Department has a method to document the receipt and processing of internal requests for incident reports, it does not have a similar system for external requests. According to RMS's personnel, their division receives an average of 180 external requests for incident reports a day. During recent discussions with the RMS Captain, he has stated that he is currently exploring how to expand the database to include a method for documenting the receipt and processing of external requests for incident reports. Additionally, he has written a unit general order for the immediate release of certain incident reports at the RMS window. This unit general order is still undergoing revisions and authorization. These steps, once instituted, would significantly address the problems raised by the case discussed below that gave rise to this policy recommendation. The OCC recommends that the documenting system and unit order be expeditiously implemented and that the public be informed (through e.g. posted signs, the Department's website, telephone recordings) as to what reports can be immediately released and how to request such reports.

Background:
A law firm representing a client who was injured during a car accident requested twice by a written letter a copy of the incident report from SFPD's Report Management Section. When the law firm still had not received the incident report three months after the requests, a legal assistant for the law firm went to SFPD's Report Management Section and submitted another written request for the incident report. When the 10-day processing period had expired, the legal assistant inquired as to the status of the third written request. None of the previous written requests could be located.

Subject: Assessing and Controlling Potentially Dangerous Canines

Recommendation: The Office of Citizen Complaints recommends that the San Francisco Police Department:

(1) provide written guidelines and enhance training on appropriate animal control techniques, especially for domesticated canines, to ensure that officers are prepared

(a) to assess whether or not a domesticated animal poses a danger to officers, other persons and/or other domesticated animals; and

(b) to handle a threatening domesticated animal correctly.

(2) invite appropriate personnel from the City's Department of Animal Care and Control to participate in training SFPD sworn personnel (new recruits and advanced officers) to assess and handle potentially dangerous canines. Such training should include simulated scenarios with actual dogs at the Animal Care and Control facility.

(3) develop a protocol and written guidelines that enable SFPD to request and coordinate on-scene assistance from Animal Care and Control in appropriate cases.

(4) equip patrol cars with dog leashes.

(5) train supervising sergeants in the use of "come-a-longs" for securing potentially dangerous canines and equip each station with one "come-a-long."

(6) include potentially dangerous canine scenarios in the firearm simulation training provided by the Police Academy.

Background:
The OCC has investigated a number of cases in which SFPD officers were called to scenes in which animals, particularly dogs, were present. For example, in one case, during a well being check on an 11-year-old child at home alone, an officer was bit on the buttocks by the family's sheep dog. The officer's partner shot at the dog; the bullet hit the officer in the leg and then ricocheted, hitting the 11-year-old child in the knee.

In a second case, officers observed a pit bull biting the ankle of a 10-year-old girl. The officers shot the dog while in close proximity to the child and another child bystander. In a third case, officers responded to a complaint of unleashed, charging dogs in a neighborhood. After the owner secured both dogs, one got loose and charged at the officer. The officer fired two rounds toward the dog; the dog was hit by a fragment of a bullet that hit the ground. In a fourth case, responding to a report of an aggressive pitbull running loose in a hotel hallway, an officer entered the hotel with his gun drawn. When the owner was contacted, she secured the dog that turned out to be her service animal.

While Department policy authorizes the use of a firearm to kill a dangerous animal, it does not address alternative (i.e. less than lethal force) responses where an animal is perceived as a threat. SFPD's Vicious and Dangerous Animals Unit and the Department of Animal Care and Control suggest that animal control equipment such as leashes and come-a-longs in addition to hands-on training and coordination between SFPD and Animal Care and Control (when appropriate) will better equip SFPD officers to respond to the variety of canine encounters they are likely to handle.
